GAY 90'S' REVIEW AND PLOWING CONTEST 4-H FAIR INNOVATIONS

Rock Island To Seek Change in Trains

The Rock Island railroad officials plan to go before the Illinois Commerce Commission August 6 to ask for their consent to allow them to take off a few trains.

The trains they plan to take off will be on Saturday and Sunday. They were originally put on during the war as a war emergency.

Trains suggested to be taken off Saturdays going east from Mokena are: 10:01 a.m. and 3:36 p.m., going west, 8:59 a.m. and 2:17 p.m. And on Sundays, the train going east at 8:29 a.m. Mokena will be changed to 35 minutes later, and the train going west at 7:35 a.m. will be changed 40 minutes later. There is a possibility that some of these trains may still run, and stop by flag.

Starting September 1, all railroad men and many other businesses are going on a five day a week schedule and this may be a factor in making a change.

Just be sure you mark the square before the Lloyd Heisner name.

Registration Set For Orland High School

Virgil Henry, Superintendent of Schools in Orland Park, has set high school registration days for Thursday and Friday, August 4-5.

The schedule follows: seniors, Thursday at 9:00 a.m.; juniors, Thursday at 1:00 p.m.; sophomores, Friday at 9:00 a.m.; freshmen, Friday at 1:00 p.m. It is important that all students who plan to attend the Orland Park Community high school this year—even those who participated in the preliminary registration in May—be present at the times indicated above to make final choices of courses and to discuss other things about the coming school year.

High school students who have dropped out of school before graduation during the past two or three years are particularly urged to come on registration days or to see the superintendent at some other time soon about re-entering school.

Local citizens in the area served by the Orland Park High School can help the school authorities if they will be kind enough to pass on this message to homes which do not receive this paper.

There will be no preliminary registration day for the pupils in the elementary school in Orland Park. However, Mr. Henry would like to have the names of first grade children who will be entering school this year and also the names of any new children of school age who have moved into the community during the summer. This and any other information about this year's enrollment in grades 1-8 of the public school would help the superintendent to plan for the opening of school.

Well Known Frankfort Couple Observed 50th Anniversary July 24

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nordstrom, residents of Frankfort for many years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, July 24 in their home at 513 Hebbert St., Joliet.

Many friends and relatives called in the afternoon and evening. A buffet luncheon was served. The home was decorated with baskets of flowers.

Among the many gifts were four golden corsages. Two were made of dimes covered with gold cellophane and tied with gold ribbon, one was silver dollars also covered with gold cellophane and tied and the other of dimes, similar to the other dime corsage except for one dollar bills used for stems. Mrs. Nordstrom wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The Nordstroms were both born in Smolend, Sweden, he on Sept. 10, 1870 and she 19 days later. They knew each other in Sweden but their friendship did not start until in this country.

Mr. Nordstrom came to this country in 1891 and worked in the Joliet steel and wire mills. It was 1893 when Mrs. Nordstrom came to Joliet from Sweden and they were married July 22, 1899. They moved to Chicago and in 1930 moved to Frankfort. He did whitewashing for 14 years serving the many dairy farmers in this area until 1941 when he started to work for the state as maintenance man in the highway department. A week ago he gave up that job and is now retired. They moved to their Joliet home in 1948.

Among the guests Sunday were their three sons and families, Herbert from Grand Rapids, Mich., Stanley from Lockport and Elmer from Oak Lawn. There are six grandchildren.

Gustav Ekelund Died Sunday From Accident On Lockport Farm

Gustave Ekelund who died in Silver Cross hospital Sunday afternoon, July 24, was born in Sweden in April 1870.

While still a young man he emigrated to this country and soon came to the Horace Messenger farm in Homer township, where he was employed by Mr. Messenger until the latter's death. Mr. Ekelund continued to operate the farm as a tenant until it was sold two years ago, making a total of 35 years that he worked on the same farm. He then moved to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Andeen to their small farm in Lockport township. The latter had lived with him for many years.

It was on the Andeen farm that he met with accident that caused his death. No one saw the accident but it is thought that Mr. Ekelund fell from a moving combine and was struck by some part of the machine which fractured his skull. He was taken at once to Silver Cross hospital where attending physicians thought he might recover, but he passed away suddenly in less than two hours, probably from a blood clot.

Mr. Ekelund never married. The only surviving relative is a half brother, Charles Ekelund of Little Valley, New York and one niece. He was an example farmer and a good friend to all.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Goodale funeral home in Lockport with Rev. Harold Finley, pastor of the Homer church, officiating. Burial was made in the Barnett cemetery.

Statement Showing DDT Scare False

Disputing widely circulated "scare" statements which have alarmed and misled the public into the belief that any use of DDT is hazardous to health the Chicago Better Business Bureau declared today that "there is no reason why properly labeled household insecticides containing DDT should not be advertised and sold to the public." The Bureau's statement was issued to allay fears which have led some manufacturers, retailers and other distributors to withhold needed supplies of DDT from sale, according to A. B. Johnston, Assistant General Manager.

It is well recognized that DDT, like other insecticides, is a poison," Johnston stated, "and if sprayed on food or cooking utensils or otherwise foolishly used, it can cause harm. However, insecticides containing DDT must be registered with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the law requires that they be labeled with directions for use adequate to prevent injuries. With this in mind, the National Better Business Bureau recently asked the principal government agencies concerned with the use of DDT in the nation's health and economy whether it offers any health risk if properly used. The government scientists were also asked whether they knew of any reason why adequately labeled household insecticides containing DDT should not be advertised and sold to the public. They know of no such reason, and, on the contrary, deplore the fears that have been needlessly raised."

Assistant Surgeon General J. W. Mountin of the U. S. Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency replied that "the Public Health Service has no evidence that there is any appreciable health risk in the proper use of DDT as a household insecticide" and "there is no reason why DDT labeled in accordance with Government requirements should not be advertised and sold to the public."

Dr. W. G. Reed, Chief Insecticide Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, stated in summary that "It would appear that there is no valid reason why properly labeled DDT household sprays should be withheld from the public."

Dr. S. A. Rohwer, Assistant Chief, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, expressed similar views. All of the Government authorities stressed the necessity for carefully following directions for the use of DDT. Similarly, the National Better Business Bureau is urging advertisers to make no statements tending to encourage careless use of these household insecticides but to include in their advertisements a cautionary statement to use only as directed.

During the days when "bleeding" was considered a method of curing disease, The World Book Encyclopedia notes that it was common practice for doctors to use leeches, or bloodsuckers, to suck blood from ailing patients.

English sailors are often called "limeys." According to The World Book Encyclopedia, this name originated in the 1700's when British seamen carried crates of limes on their ships. They discovered that the disease of scurvy could be prevented by drinking the sharp, sour juice of this citrus fruit.

God Can Be Trusted

Lesson for July 31, 1949

EVEN if you do nothing else with this lesson, it will be a good thing to learn by heart some of the Psalms of Trust which have been selected for your study this week. They are far too rich to be treated in one column.

Who Can Trust in God?

(PSALM 34:16-22.) Not every one has a right to trust in God. Those who do not believe in him, do not love him, work against him, try to break down and corrupt those who do believe in him — these need expect nothing at his hand. But there are three classes of persons who are encouraged to put their trust in God. One is the "contrite," the repentant, those who sincerely wish to be cut free from their sins — these can surely trust in God for forgiveness. One who cannot trust God for forgiveness has no right to trust him for anything else. Then the "righteous," as the Psalmist calls them, have a right to trust in God.

Dr. Foreman

If that word means only the perfectly and altogether good people, it would leave all of us out. But in the light of the Bible as a whole, the righteous are those whose dominant desire is to love and serve God.

Their service is imperfect, their love is far from perfect, and no man is without sin. But if you can say with Peter, "Lord, thou knowest that I love thee," then you have a right to trust in God. Also the broken-hearted can safely trust in him. Whoever else may break your heart, God will not. He is the great Mender of hearts. For the little sorrows there may be lesser comforters; but the real heart-breaks only God can cure.

Why Trust God?

PSALM 37 gives one answer: The opposite of trust is worry, and worry never did any good at all. Worry eats into the mind, casts no light, gives no strength, solves no problems, worry makes any trouble worse. Then the writer of Psalm 30 gives another reason for trust: he had tried it. If trust in God were simply a doctrine of theology or a theory of preachers, not many people would take it seriously.

Trust is really passed on by a kind of contagion from heart to heart. If there are not more people who know what trust means, it is because those who have known have kept it too much to themselves.

It would be a wonderful stimulus to most churches to have a little "cell" of people who would really agree to trust God every day.

When to Trust in God

One of Dickens' famous characters used to make a great point of being cheerful under the most un-cheerful circumstances. Anybody can be jolly when everything is lovely, he said. There's no credit in not worrying when there's nothing to worry about. Although the writers of the Bible, one and all, trusted in God, not one had an easy life. Read Psalm 46, for example: it gives a picture of a world much like ours of today, shaken to its foundations, torn by wars, a desolate, discouraged world. If it made sense to trust only under bright skies, religion would have perished long ago.

For What Shall We Trust God?

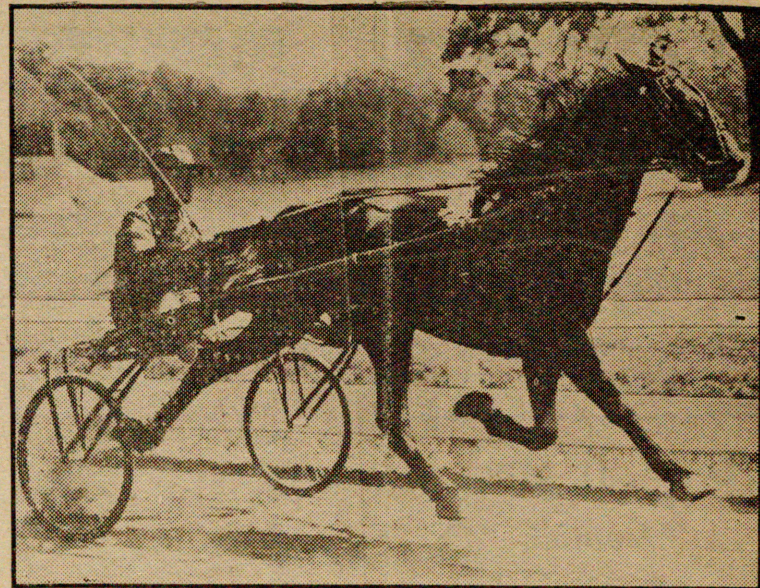

NO ONE PSALM puts the whole truth in one nutshell. If you read Psalm 91, for example, by itself, it would seem to prove that if you trust in God you will never die a violent death, nor an early one; but too many saints (and indeed our Lord himself) had died early and violent deaths, for us to take Psalm 91 in that way. Trusting in God does not mean he will give us long life. It means he will give us strength to match our days.

It does mean he will give us all we need. It does not mean we shall be shielded from troubles. It does mean he will save us from troubles greater than we can bear. It does not mean that in this life we shall be wholly free from burdens or from pain; It does mean we shall have strength in our souls (Ps. 138:3).

Which is the greater thing — to be a weakening wearied by a straw's weight, or to be one of God's athletes, able to bear the worst the world can pile on?

For The Ladies: A Diet That Really Works

We went out visiting the other night and the ladies were talking away about weight-reducing diets. One of them had a special "15-day Hollywood diet" guaranteed to slim her down fifteen pounds' worth. Another was living on bananas and skim milk!

I might have known the missus would get the bug, too, and sure enough the other day she asks me, "Joe, what kind of a diet do you think I ought to go on?"

"Mother," I says, "the only diet I would ever recommend to anyone is simply moderation. I wouldn't trust any of those get-thin-quick diets. Simply cut down on desserts, bread, butter, sweets and fats—but when you do, even do your cutting down moderately."

From where I sit, moderation is the watchword. Moderation with food, with smoking or with the enjoyment of a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale. Actually, moderation adds to the enjoyment of just about anything.

Herewith is a list of personal property and real estate assessments as made by the township assessor of Frankfort Township, and returned to Charles Lauth, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under provisions of Section 146 of the Illinois Revenue Act of 1939 as amended in 1945, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the percentage relationship within each county of assessed value and the estimated full, fair cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the total locally assessed values so that all such property will be assessed at its full, fair cash value.

These equalized values then become the base for tax extensions for 1949 taxes payable in 1950, and indicate the full, fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed value as made by the local assessing officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with Section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as a public notice to the taxpayers of the county of the assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessor.

Taxpayers who consider their property incorrectly assessed may appear before the Board of Review ON OR BEFORE September 1 and file a complaint in writing in accordance with Section 108 of the Revenue Act.

DIVING DEVICE WILL EXPLORE THE DEEP—A weird-looking apparatus, the "Benthoscope," is hauled out of the water at Long Beach, Calif., after a test run on the harbor bottom. Inventor of the device, Dr. Otis Barton of New York, plans to probe the mysteries of the deep in the diving bell, which is towed along the ocean floor on three drum-like wheels. Barton hopes to reach depth of 300 fathoms (1800 feet).

From Congressman N. M. Mason

The Origin of the Brannan Plan—Members of Congress have learned from an authoritative source that the much publicized Brannan Farm Plan is the brain-child of Henry Wallace, Rexford Tugwell, and Alger Hiss. Prepared when Wallace was Secretary of Agriculture, it was buried for several years and then resurrected by Mr. Brannan when he became Secretary. He dusted it off and is now trying to sell it to the American farmers as a 1950 election issue. If the plan will bring prosperity, as Mr. Brannan claims, why wait until 1950 to put it over? If, on the other hand, the plan is the brain-child of the Wallace-Tugwell-Hiss Trio, as reported, then our American farmers should be ware.

Mr. Brannan has had months to work out the details of the Wallace-Tugwell Hiss Plan, but according to observers at Des Moines, he was unable or unwilling to reveal a single definite item of cost. He had no answer to charges that milk subsidies alone would cost the taxpayers nearly $2½ billion a year. He refused to hazard a guess on the cost of guaranteeing an "income standard" on corn and wheat surpluses. He asks the farmers to buy "a pig in a poke" that he labels "prosperity" without any mention of cost to the taxpayer, or of the socialistic regimentation involved in the Plan.

Our Farmers do not want their prosperity dependent on the whims of political planners, who, within the last six months, have revised their own publicly announced platform, and have reversed themselves completely. Farmers still resent the killing of little pigs, ordered by the Wallace-Tugwell-Hiss Trio fifteen years ago, and they will resent the government controls Mr. Brannan now proposes. When we start writing programs of this sort in Washington and begin poking them down the people's throats, we can no longer call our Government a Republic.

Whom Should We Blame? Raymond Rodgers, Professor of Banking, New York University, told a group of Bankers that half of our federal taxes are the direct result of "Russian policy and action." He claims the Russian attitude largely determines the tax rate in this country. What are the facts?

The truth is that our leaders at Yalta, Teheran, Cairo and Potsdam made mistakes that have resulted in most of the heavy expenditures we now must make for National Defense, the Marshall Plan, the Berlin Air-Lift, etc. To be specific:

1. If our President had not sided with Stalin as against Churchill, the Allied Armies would have invaded Europe from the South, "through its soft underbelly", and not through France. Churchill's plan would have kept Stalin's forces from overrunning and occupying Eastern Europe.

2. If President Roosevelt had not ordered the American forces to halt on the outskirts of Berlin, to in fact, back up and permit the Russian forces to capture and hold Berlin, we would not have needed to divide Germany into four occupation zones. This would have saved us many a postwar headache.

3. If our leaders had insisted upon a "right-of-way" into Berlin, and not taken "or granted" that such a right of way would be provided us by Stalin, it would have saved the hundreds of millions of dollars that the Berlin Air Lift has cost us.

4. If our leaders had insisted upon pledges of postwar cooperation and good faith from Stalin in exchange for our aid when he had his back to the wall at Stalingrad, begging us for Lend-Lease War Aid, which we gave to the tune of $11 billion, the entire cost to us of the Cold War, over $40 billion to date, might have been saved.

The above are historic facts. What can we deduce from them? The following illustration is pertinent:

If a banker carelessly leaves the bank vault open and the bank doors unlocked as an invitation to gangsters to enter and steal, and if the bank funds are stolen as a result of such carelessness, whom should the depositors blame the gangster or the bank? Whom then should we blame for the billions we have spent in the Cold War, our own leaders, or Stalin?

Flies Get Worse in Summer Keep At Them

Now that summer is really here, flies will get worse than ever, if you leave them alone. Flies increase fastest in hot, rainy weather, but a combination of sanitation and spraying can keep them down.

This warning and advice came today from H. B. Petty, insect specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture and Illinois Natural History Survey. He reports that the 1949 Illinois Fly-Control campaign is keeping fly numbers down fairly well. But he urges both farmers and townfolks to avoid a summer let-down in fly control work.

"Any decaying organic matter is a breeding place for flies," Petty declared. "Keep them cleaned out and you've won more than half the battle to eliminate flies. Your spraying will be more effective if you've done a good sanitation job first."

Petty also cites the support of the community-conscious Breeze Journal in Clinton County as one example of a newspaper serving its city. The June 23 issue carried 11 news stories and 15 advertisements featuring fly control. Mayor A. J. Appel's proclamation of "Fly-Free Week," June 27-July 2, when everyone cleaned out fly-breeding places was printed on page 1.

No doubt other communities have carried on similar campaigns against flies.

Bothered With Ants?

Numerous individuals have inquired of the Cook County Home Bureau about the control of various kinds of ants in houses, on lawns, and in similar places. "DDT" or chlordane is an effective means of control of ants, chiggers, and a good many insects. DDT may be applied or even dusted where ants run in the house and outside. Some of the material can be poured down an ants' nests when they are found.

There is not so much danger in spraying with DDT as has been indicated by some reports. In the application of DDT do not use such a small amount that it will be ineffective. It should be applied liberally along places where they run. Chlordane is effective and probably residue will disappear in three weeks' time. When using inside the home, an oil emulsion should be used otherwise there will be visible traces of powder if the wettable material is used.

RUSSIA AND BIBLE PROPHECY

Peter the Great, one of the mighty Czars of Russia, urged the Russian people in his last will that they should never rest until they had captured the Dardanelles, and in this way they would be able to dominate Europe and Asia.
Evangelist Dewitt S. Osgood, tonight at the Tent Tabernacle, 154th and Loomis, in Harvey, at 7:45 p.m., will show from Bible prophecy what the future has in store for Russia and the rest of the world. Some of the questions that he will answer are: Will the Iron Curtain be lifted? Is there a religious war in the offing, with Russia and her satellites, and the Western powers of Europe? Will Russia be the fuse that will set off a world explosion? How does the United States come into the picture?
